

YOU ARE INVITED TO

DEATH AT THE DINNER PARTY

A MURDER MYSTERY GAME

Welcome to Death at the Dinner Party. At the outer reaches of London's most sought-after postcode sits Emerald Hill, the city's highly exclusive gated community. When Mr Addington, the snobbish owner of the estate, is found dead on the marble floor of his en suite bathroom, it's clear that his death was no accident. Each of the residents is hiding an explosive secret, but only one of them would go so far as to kill in order to protect that secret!

Set in the '80s, when hair was big and shoulder pads were bigger, this immersive murder mystery will see you and your fellow dinner guests become both murder suspects and detectives for the evening. Will you be able to unravel the clues, pinpoint the motives and solve the murder before coffee is served?

YOUR CHARACTER PROFILE

KEITH MALONE

You are an actor in a daytime soap. You're considerably lacking in the talent department, but with your youthful good looks, you more than make up for it in swoon-ability. A constant fixture on the covers of teen magazines, there's hardly a girl's bedroom in the country that doesn't have your posters plastered on its walls.

SUGGESTED CLOTHING AND PROPS:

Cowboy boots, white T-shirt and your Versace leather jacket. Your mullet is sprayed to perfection and you've had your hair highlighted blonde so you can look just like George Michael in his "Faith" video.

CHARACTER ACTIONS:

You've spent a lot of money on your new hairdo, so be sure to keep asking everyone if they like it. You can spot a mirror a mile away and can't resist checking yourself out in any reflective surface you can find.

CHARACTER RELATIONSHIPS:

You think Eugene could definitely smarten himself up a little bit – doesn't he know that image is everything? On the other hand, you respect Amber's commitment to her trademark look. Maybe you should swap some style tips with her?
