

YOU ARE INVITED TO

DEATH AT THE DINNER PARTY

A MURDER MYSTERY GAME

Welcome to Death at the Dinner Party. At the outer reaches of London's most sought-after postcode sits Emerald Hill, the city's highly exclusive gated community. When Mr Addington, the snobbish owner of the estate, is found dead on the marble floor of his en suite bathroom, it's clear that his death was no accident. Each of the residents is hiding an explosive secret, but only one of them would go so far as to kill in order to protect that secret!

Set in the '80s, when hair was big and shoulder pads were bigger, this immersive murder mystery will see you and your fellow dinner guests become both murder suspects and detectives for the evening. Will you be able to unravel the clues, pinpoint the motives and solve the murder before coffee is served?

YOUR CHARACTER PROFILE

STEVEN IDOL

You are the country's number one ranked tennis player and are fifth in the world. Having just won the prestigious Hart Cup, you're raking in the sponsorship deals – everything from breakfast cereals to the Walkman, sunglasses and double glazing. With the new influx of money, you're looking to leave the tennis court behind you.

SUGGESTED CLOTHING AND PROPS:

Tennis shorts, a smart polo shirt and a jumper over the shoulders. You may be indoors, but the sunglasses stay on – the other residents of Emerald Hill don't need to know about your latest black eye.

CHARACTER ACTIONS:

You're quick to temper, so don't be afraid to bang on the table and get in people's faces any time you feel you're being even vaguely disrespected.

CHARACTER RELATIONSHIPS:

To be honest, you're not really a fan of anyone here. You're not very patient and you can think of a dozen things you'd rather be doing than spending time with people not good enough to wring out your sweatband.
